ATTENTION:

We believe that the Binis have grown beyond a Kingdom, so we will always refer to the Binis as an "empire" or a "nation" henceforth in all our stories.

Osahon (Ogiamien), High Priest Joseph Amengbivie Uzama (Ohen Evian), Princes Egbobayaye Osas (Evian), Alternate Publisher, Ogiamien Trumpet, and Chief Osabohien Oliha after the historic interview

Ohen Evian, High Priest Joseph Amengbivie Uzama, Madam Victoria I. Osahon (Ogiamien) and Chief Osabohien Oliha have given the reasons why any Evian: Uzama, Ogiamien and Oliha children do not kneel down in Oba palace describing it as historical and sacrament.

They made these and other revelations in the second historic and exclusive interview with Ogiamien Trumpet on Monday 14th June 2015 at Ohen Evian Palace, 163rd First East Circular Road, Benin City, Edo State.

Excerpts.
Ogiamien Trumpet:

before we continue with this second interview, are there any omissions, corrections you may want us to make before taking today's historic interview?

Ohen Evian: Yes! I have few corrections to make. But first of all, let me thank you for the first interview. You really tried but there were some mistakes which I would want us to correct before taking today's historic interview. The first correction is Evian Nuriebe and not Evian Ogieben as reported. That is the first correction. The second one is that Evian as a matter of fact is not a Kingdom. There can not be another kingdom in Benin Kingdom. Another area I want to correct is that I said that Ohen Evian is in charge of Iyekogba and that Iyekogba is a very large area comprising well over 16 communities. That is the area I want you to also correct that Evian is in charge of this area. As a matter of fact, historically Enogies are not posted to this area because of Evian

Why Evian Children Can Not Kneel Down In Oba Palace

Remembering Evian The Great

A similar Monster like this in the 11th century killed and swallowed many Binis but thank God to the mystical powers of Evian who was able to conquer it.

In the 11th century, a dreaded monster which resembles this kind of monster from no where suddenly appeared in Benin Empire. It killed and swallowed many Binis. This happened during the banishment of Owodo the elder brother of Evian. This dreaded Monster used to come out from Ikpoba River, although the Binis then believed that it was coming from the Sky, but it attacked and devoured many Binis at will at the Ogiso market. The Binis as a result, nicknamed the Ogiso market Agbado Aigbare, meaning we go there together, we never return together, which is how Ogiso market acquired its current name of Agbado market.

Every effort according to historians to tackle this dreaded Monster, including spiritual means failed until Evian the younger brother of Owodo succeeded in throwing a fire-hot iron into the mouth of the Monster. This sent the Monster to its eventual death and endeared Evian to the Binis because the Monster never bothered the Binis again as at then.

But inspite of this, the custodian of Benin Empire, Benin Traditional Council do not have regard for this great man who saved the Binis from being exterminated by this dreaded Monster. Evian descendants worldwide have been called upon to set aside a day to honour and celebrate this great Man called Evian, the consultant of Evian Renaissance Movement, Chief Monday Ekhatore Wehere JP, Evian Ogiamien Reunion, USA, Teddy Ogiamien and the world renowned artist Ogiamien son, Samson Ogiamien based in Austria are working on how to immortalize this Great Man called Evian##
